PineBridge Investments Responsible Investing Statement

PineBridge Investments recognizes that environmental, social, and governance (“ESG”) factors may create opportunities and risks for our client’s investment portfolios. Therefore, we offer ESG-integrated investment processes across our investment platform. Where we include these factors in our investment process, we seek to assess their impact on asset valuations over longer-term periods.

Our approach at PineBridge focuses on how companies plan to address their own specific environmental, social, and governance factors that may help reduce the risk of adverse outcomes and supports firm valuation over time. Specific to sustainability, PineBridge believes that businesses that assess these factors in their operating models may enhance value by reducing or avoiding unnecessary adverse outcomes.

Our Responsible Investing Approach is defined by three key components:

- 1. Implementation of ESG considerations. The evaluation of ESG factors is incorporated into the initial analysis and in the ongoing monitoring of investments where appropriate as externalities related to environmental, social, and governance risks can ultimately have a material impact on financial performance. As a result, we view ESG factors as one of many inputs to our analysis, and the consideration of these factors in our asset selection reflects a comprehensive understanding of our clients’ long-term investment objectives.
- 2. A focus on improvement on ESG factors in key areas. We believe asset selection and monitoring should consider a full review of a company’s risks and encourage a proactive effort to mitigate those risks over time. Along with our analysis of underlying business fundamentals, we believe that recognizing a demonstrated ability of management to consider all business risks, including ESG risks, may lead to differentiated and attractive investment opportunities. PineBridge does not default to an exclusionary approach to ESG risks. Rather, we believe engagement and shareholder support for a company’s consideration of all risk factors, including ESG-related aspects, can uncover attractive investment opportunities for our clients.
- 3. Embracing active engagement. When we refer to engagement, we mean purposeful, targeted communication on particular risk areas that we believe will be drivers of long-term value. We focus on areas where active engagement may improve the company’s risk management considerations, supporting increased valuations over time and further underpinning the investment opportunities we aim to uncover for our clients.

We view engagement as an active dialogue between investors and companies that can,

- ✓ Foster productive discussions of risks and opportunities
- ✓ provide companies with insight into best practices
- ✓ offer actionable solutions
- ✓ encourage monitoring and transparency of progress

Ultimately, various asset classes have different venues from which managers can engage. Notwithstanding these differences, we support an approach across our investment platform that prioritizes action and encourages two-way dialogue with a company’s management. In addition, we assess management’s commitment to support and enhance risk management practices within their operating models while continuing to monitor their progress. We believe our integration approach is aligned to help achieve our clients’ investment goals, however we can customize our approach at the portfolio level to suit bespoke client objectives.

The manner and extent to which ESG factors are integrated into our investment strategies varies across our global investment teams. We welcome client-driven portfolio solutions and can tailor investment programs to suit client investment objectives where appropriate.

Risk Warning: All investments involve risk, including possible loss of principal. If applicable, the offering document should be read for further details including the risk factors. Our investment management services relate to a variety of investments, each of which can fluctuate in value. The investment risks vary between different types of instruments. For example, for investments involving exposure to a currency other than that in which the portfolio is denominated, changes in the rate of exchange may cause the value of investments, and consequently the value of the portfolio, to go up or down. In the case of a higher volatility portfolio, the loss on realization or cancellation may be very high (including total loss of investment), as the value of such an investment may fall suddenly and substantially. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the merits and risks involved.

Performance Notes: Past performance is not indicative of future results. There can be no assurance that any investment objective will be met. PineBridge Investments often uses benchmarks for the purpose of comparison of results. Benchmarks are used for illustrative purposes only, and any such references should not be understood to mean there would necessarily be a correlation between investment returns of any investment and any benchmark. Any referenced benchmark does not reflect fees and expenses associated with the active management of an investment. PineBridge Investments may, from time to time, show the efficacy of its strategies or communicate general industry views via modeling. Such methods are intended to show only an expected range of possible investment outcomes, and should not be viewed as a guide to future performance. There is no assurance that any returns can be achieved, that the strategy will be successful or profitable for any investor, or that any industry views will come to pass. Actual investors may experience different results.
